

The installation system your competitors don't want you to know about.

AccuTrac™ from OMG is a secret that many contractors don't want you to know about. That's because it's an easy-to-use tool that makes insulation attachment a snap and pays you big dividends all year.

AccuTrac does the job of two, helping you save labor costs and improve productivity. In one motion, AccuTrac positions the plate and aligns the fastener for proper installation. And since the tool is ergonomically designed for stand-up installation, it's a healthier alternative for your crew, and can help reduce insurance costs and lost time wages.
